

INSTRUCTIONAL DELIVERY

Never underestimate the value of a knowledgeable instructor. Experienced instructors know how to facilitate learning experiences that not only engage participants, but also make learning stick – and that's where our educators excel.

OUR EDUCATORS

Our team of educators work as well in a full classroom with a formal curriculum as in a half-hour lunch-and-learn event. We'll help you determine the instructional delivery method that works best for your team's content and culture.

HOW WE HELP

Your Sedona Learning instructors will also:

- Shadow learners before training to understand daily routines
- Pilot and refine learning materials and instructional approach with super users
- Present content and facilitate learning and retention using research-driven methods
- Ensure consistent delivery of content for a reliable learning experience
- Bridge the gap between knowledge and performance with at-the-elbow support
- Provide ongoing assessment and remediation for clinicians that need a little extra coaching

In addition to their extensive facilitation skills, Sedona's instructors are experts in healthcare technologies such as EHR, CPOE, decision-support tools and administrative systems. This means that whatever the context or role, we will help your staff successfully integrate your new technology into their daily practice. If you already have an education team, our staff of experienced instructors can complement or supplement their efforts.
