JUST-IN-TIME ADOPTION TOOLS

Research shows that 50% of training effectiveness can be attributed to what happens after a learning event. Having just-in-time learning tools available at the point of need increases user satisfaction and adoption.

Delivering too much information too quickly will result in confused, frustrated learners and less-than-stellar adoption. Sedona Learning creates learning solutions that deliver just the right amount of content during learning events supplemented with informal, just-in-time tools for continued learning and retention. User satisfaction is increased when adoption tools are readily available at the fingertips.

We offer several informal learning tools that promote adoption, including:

- Web-accessible Show Me demonstrations for training refreshers
- Mobile and tablet-accessible tools for on-the-go learning
- Electronic and paper quick reference guides
- Open source files for continued technology training updates
- At-the-elbow remediation and rounding support

Our goal is to provide your team with just the right tools to supplement their learning at just the right time.
